Show Description: The adventures of a talking dog and his four human pals as they try to unravel the strange and haunted history of their hometown. The tone is comedic, but it will never lose the edge that our heroes are in some frightening situations. The stakes are real.

Main Characters:
Scooby-Doo and Norville "Shaggy" Rogers – The soul of the team. Not so much interested in mysteries as they are in eating and watching horror movies. Currently involved in a complicated love triangle with…
Velma Dinkley – The brains of the team. Too smart and too aggressive for her own good sometimes. Velma loves mysteries, Shaggy, science, and alternative music, in that order. She is not shy about letting her feelings known, and can't understand why getting Shaggy to love her is so difficult. For this reason, she often turns to advice from her best friend…
Daphne Blake – The heart of the team. A sweetie with no idea how hot she is. But don't let her looks deceive you, Daphne is not an idiot. In fact, unlike previous incarnations of the show, she does a lot of mystery solving herself. And she loves doing it. Why? Because it brings her closer to Fred. Daphne is eternally devoted to Fred and imagines them spending their entire lives together. Unfortunately for Daphne, there is one thing getting in her way. Fred is already in love… with his traps.
Fred Jones – The leader of the team. Fred has two goals in life: to be a great mystery solver, and to be an equally great trap builder. Beyond that, he'd like to spend the rest of his life living in a house with the gang… where they can solve mysteries and build traps. As for his relationship with Daphne, Fred is at the baby steps stage. Somewhere between realizing girls and boys are different, and holding hands. But he's getting there. Slowly.
The Mystery Machine – The iconic van from the original series is back as the gang's principle mode of transportation.

Show Location: A sleepy coastal village, Crystal Cove boasts a long history of GHOST SIGHTINGS, DEMON POSSESSION, GLOWING DEEP SEA DIVERS, and WEREWOLVES. This place is SERIOUSLY HAUNTED. And because of it, Crystal Cove has become a tourist hotspot, taking in major profits. The Paranormal has been good to this town and the people of Crystal Cove don't appreciate the gang's meddling.
